BEN SCOVELL STIRS AUDIENCE WITH TALES OF HEROISM
OF WAR

A fairly good audience, but one which by no means crowded the hall, responded to the invitation of the British Ambulance Society to hear Ben Scovell Thursday evening at the High School.

Mr. Scovell explained how deeply he was stirred by the call for volunteers when the great war broke out and how, after the war had been in progress for some time, in obedience to his sense of duty, he left wife and children and hurried to a Canadian recruiting station, only to be rejected as physically unfit and over the age limit; how he utilized his talents in the interval of waiting to entertain the soldiers wounded in the war who had been brought back from the front and lodged in a hospital which had once been a girls' school where Mr. Scovell had years before given a program of dramatic readings. There he got his first realization of "German frightfulness." The pleasure he was able to give to those wrecks of humanity cemented his determination to go to the front and do what he could for the fighting men and the victims of the war. Under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. he continued the work thus begun, travelling from hospital to hospital, camp to camp, finally crossing to England and France. Most of the evening was given to stirring and pathetic tales of heroism, many of the heroes and heroines being girls and boys from the United States of America who had volunteered their services in the cause of liberty and down-trodden little Belgium. Following the lecture he recited with splendid dramatic effect three poems by Robert W. Service, author of the volume "The Rhymes of a Red Cross Man." His selections were "Young Fellow My Lad," "Canada's Part," and "Carry On!" He also gave "The Coward," by Campbell. He was recalled by a storm of applause and for his encore recited "He Waited," a comedy number with which he had entertained poor women victims of the lust and brutality of the Germans in the Belgian invasion, whom he had found in one of the English hospitals.

As a preliminary to the Service poems, he described the arrival of two famished soldiers at the Y. M. C. A. hut where he was staying one night, about 9 o'clock, so covered with mud and blood as to be unrecognizable. They had not slept for 48 hours, had not eaten for 12 hours, had been neither bathed nor shaved for two weeks, and were begging for food and creature comforts. While the food was in preparation, Mr. Scovell provided towels and basins of water which restored their features to the semblance of civilized humanity, and after they had stowed away three meals in one and consumed

GOOD FISHING

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Maxwell of 136 Park avenue, in company with Los Angeles friends, went to San Pedro Thursday and from eleven to four p. m. fished from one of the lumber wharves. They had splendid luck and brought home a string of thirty-three king fish and perch. One man of the party who started earlier than the rest caught 60, and one of the ladies who had three hooks out caught two at once seven times, and three at once three times with the one line. Mrs. Maxwell declares there is no reason for the high price of fish unless it be graft and combine. She was told that the fish bite like that all the time.

PATRIOTIC MEETING

AT CENTRAL AVENUE SCHOOL
SUNDAY MORNING AT 11 O'CLOCK

The Liberty Loan committee for the Casa Verdugo district, consisting of Rev. W. E. Edmonds, Menzo Williams, W. A. George and W. E. Hewitt, have planned for a patriotic service at the Central avenue school Sunday morning, April 7, at 11 o'clock. Professor W. Maxwell Burke of Occidental College and president of the Brotherhood of the First Congregational church of Los Angeles will be the principal speaker. Special music has been provided under the direction of J. B. Clarke. Dr. Julius Soper of the Casa Verdugo Methodist Church will preside.

All lovers of their God, their country and humanity are invited to come and hear about America's place and duty in the present world-wide conflict.

MYSTERY ILLUMINATED

READERS OF THE NEWS HELP TO LOCATE SELLER OF PASTOR
RUSSELL BOOKS

Chief Herald of the police department reports that within twenty minutes after the Evening News of April 3d was in the hands of subscribers, calls began to come in from parties who had read the article "The Hidden Mystery" and who had been canvassed by women who were selling Pastor Russell's books. Officers at once got busy and presently located Mrs. Emily Smith of 124 North Hancock street, Los Angeles, who exhibited an identification card of the Bible Student's Institute at Eleventh and Grand avenue. Mrs. Smith stated that a Mrs. Wood, whose address she did not know, was working with her; that the Institute knew that the seventh book of Pastor Russell is under government ban, and is therefore not offering the book for sale; that she was selling only the first six books of Pastor Russell, which were written several years ago.

The officer looked over her stock in trade and searched her handbag, which was full of religious tracts, but found no copies of the seditious work which she declared is "The Finnish Mystery" and not "The Hidden Mystery."

The case was reported to John Robert White of this city, a lieutenant in the U. S. Protective League, with the suggestion that he investigate the Bible Institute.

One of the exhibits brought back to police headquarters by the officer who interviewed Mrs. Smith is a copy of the Bible Student's Monthly containing a lecture by Pastor Russell entitled "Distress of Nations Preceding Armageddon."

Pastor Russell was an evangelist of rather sensational type who was not in harmony with the orthodox churches, but who traveled the country over and who seemed never to lack for money for his personal expenses or for his printed propaganda. He advertised liberally and paid for the printing of his lectures in many papers, besides distributing thousands of tracts. He lectured in Glendale not very long before his death, which occurred about two years ago. He was a man of wonderful vitality and strong personality who acquired a great following, not only in the United States but all over the world. In the lecture referred to, printed in the Bible Student's Monthly, Pastor Russell declared exultantly: "For forty years I have been proclaiming this very war and its glorious outcome by sermons oral and printed and in my books on Bible study in twenty languages. Now when the very year has come and the prophecy has been fulfilled, could I consistently ask the Almighty to change his program?"

Inasmuch as Germany has been preparing for this war for forty years some persons will feel justified in entertaining the opinion that Pastor Russell may have been one of the agents of Germany and fully acquainted with her plan and that he was one of the representatives sent out to pave the way for wars and great political changes; but it is more probable that he was the sincere evangelist he appeared to be and that the seventh book, which is admitted by the publishers to be posthumous, is the work of some German agent who, taking advantage of the death and popularity of Pastor Russell, has put forth this spurious volume in his name and is seeking to spread its seditious sentiments among his followers.

INAUGURAL BALL

The inaugural ball at the Elks' Club House Friday evening was a very successful social event. As announced, it was confined to members of the Elks' Lodge and their ladies. The decorations of the ballroom were simple but effective. Many members attended the Liberty Loan meeting at the High School before coming to the ball and the floor was not well filled until after 9:30 on that account. Exalted Ruler Bert P. Woodard and Mrs. Woodard led the grand march. Mr. Woodard also made an effective talk in the course of the evening on behalf of the Liberty Loan. The music was exceptionally good and it was a delightful affair all around, thanks to the excellent management of the committee of arrangements, of which J. H. Hearnshaw was chairman.

GERMANS HURL TROOPS ON CORBE

BIG BATTLE FOR POSSESSION OF AMIENS RAILWAY OPENED AT EARLY HOUR THIS MORNING

(By William Philip Simms, United Press Staff Correspondent)

BRITISH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, April 6.—Heavy fighting is developing for possession of the Amiens railroad embankment in the region of Albert, the valley of the Ancre and astride the Somme.

Just outside of Corbe there is a particularly desperate assault being made, the Germans hurling great masses of troops forward.

At 5:30 this morning the enemy was seen advancing in waves north of Vaire wood a mile and a half east of Corbe.

The fighting continues violently southward from the heights. A vast number of Germans are falling on British bayonets or are being shattered by British guns.

At the time this dispatch was filed it was too early to give definite results of the great battle.

DOZENS OF TOWNS THROUGHOUT THE NATION OVER-SUBSCRIBE QUOTA ON FIRST DAY OF DRIVE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, April 6.—America's third giant drive for liberty dollars opened throughout the nation this morning.

Bumper billions of war money will be subscribed during the 28-day campaign, officials here confidently predict.

Headed by President Wilson and his war-government officials, public leaders are putting party politics behind them to stump the nation in the interest of the Liberty Loan drive.

The president speaks at Baltimore, Secretary McAdoo at Philadelphia and Secretary Daniels at Cleveland in opening the great drive.

Dozens of towns throughout the nation are already reported to have oversubscribed their quota on this first day of the drive.

QUENT IN THE BIG CAMPAIGN FOR DOLLARS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Dozens of cities and towns and at least one county in the 12th federal reserve district oversubscribed its quota to the third Liberty Loan it was learned today.

Telegrams telling of oversubscriptions to the loan poured into headquarters all day indicating that the West will more than subscribe its allotment.

California cities which have already exceeded their quota are Del Rey, Riverdale, Kerman, Coalinga, Bakersfield, and Madera county.

CIVILIAN OBLIGATIONS

CAPT. THOMPSON AND LESLIE HENRY PRESENT THEM AT LIBERTY LOAN MEETING

A splendid gathering of people faced the speakers at the Liberty Loan meeting at the High School Friday night, over which Rev. W. E. Edmonds presided, an audience which filled every seat to the last chair in the extension over which the new floor has been laid.

The talk of Captain Donald Thompson, who was the first speaker, was a tale of adventure which surpassed in ingenious exploits the romances of Alexander Dumas. Sent out to take war photographs by a syndicate which included such potentates in the newspaper world as Lord Northcliffe of the London Times and Robert McCormick of the Chicago Tribune, he got into the game early, when the German atrocities in Belgium were beginning. Securing an interview with Albert, King of the Belgians, he easily convinced him how valuable as testimony would be the photographic record of German behavior at the front should Germany attempt to deny the verbal and written reports, and he was given passes which permitted him to accompany the Belgian Army as official photographer.

He was in Antwerp when it fell and was delegated to turn over the official keys to the German conqueror. He told of some of the brutalities he witnessed and referred to others which he secured in moving picture films from the windows of his hotel which furnished the damning proof of what German soldiers did in Antwerp.

He was in all parts of the war zone, sent hither and yon as the development of the war shifted the stage of operations from one front to another. In every country he found the German agents busy undoing the work of struggling armies by plots and intrigues and undermining the patriotism of the people in one way or another.

He followed the Russians on all their battle fronts and declared last night:

"The Russian soldiers are the bravest of any soldiers in Europe. They would go into the trenches and wait for other soldiers to fall that they might take their guns and fight. Don't judge Russia by the Bolsheviks. The real Russians are just as loyal as they were when the war first started. All they want is a Napoleon to lead them. When they find him they are going to do their part. The Russian soldier is going to come back when he does it will be good-bye to the Bolsheviks, to the Russian anarchist and to the German agent."

"I don't think you could grasp what the Italians did in those mountains. They had the most wonderful defense I saw in Europe, but when I got down to Rome I found the hotel packed with Germans. Italy was crushed not because she didn't have guns and soldiers, but because of German intrigues behind the lines. Servia paid the price, Russia paid the price, Roumania paid the price. France and England would have been crushed if they had not locked up the Germans."

"We are in this war and we are sending our best men. What are we going to do to protect them? Are we going to let the Germans run around loose? It is better to lock up 10,000 Germans than to let one German spy go free. (Applause.) Lock them all up and we will apologize after the war is over. If you are not going to lock them up, I suggest that you make each one wear a red band on his sleeve with a heavy penalty for appearing without it and wherever he goes require him to report to the police and check in when he arrives and when he departs. By doing that you can make every American a secret agent."

"I think this war is going to last four or five years yet and we are going to have more liberty loans. It will be better for us to give all of our money to our government to win the war than to lose the war and then have to give the clothes on our backs to the Germans, for that is what they would demand."

"The war is up to America. It is our dollars and our men that are going to win it. To prepare this army is going to take millions and millions of dollars."

Captain Thompson talked very rapidly, with scarcely a pause, and his narrative of scenes and adventures was exceedingly interesting. At its close the applause was unanimous and prolonged.

Leslie Henry

The next speaker, like the first, was a young man, but different in all other respects. With telling eloquence and arguments which could not be evaded he brought home to all

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

FIVE MEN NAMED TO INVESTI-GATE CASES OF LIBERTY
BOND SLACKERS

Following the plan of organization and work mapped out at the National Headquarters of the Third Liberty Loan, the Glendale organization has appointed a "Last Resort Committee," as follows:

E. M. Lynch,
George T. Payne,
O. T. Walker,
Ezra Parker,
Norton Wells.

It will be the duty of this committee to investigate cases of persons reported as "slackers" by Liberty Bond canvassers, and to canvass persons regarded as able to purchase bonds after the regular solicitors have failed to secure a satisfactory subscription.

The Committee makes public the following statement of its aims:

"In accepting the appointment to the very disagreeable and perhaps onerous duties of this committee, we understand our duties require us to make a careful investigation into the ability of any person complained against by the general committee to contribute to the purchase of Liberty Bonds."

"To make sure that the situation is thoroughly and properly presented to the one complained against, if we are given that opportunity."

"Not to attempt to determine the amount which any person should give or expend, but to advise that a man of substantial means shall make substantial use thereof in this matter."

"If any man fails in his duty because the needs of the government are not clearly impressed upon him it will be our task to enlighten him."

"If, having the ability financially to assist the government, he fails thereafter, it will be our painful but solemn duty to make a public record of his attitude, which will be accessible for all time."

FORGOT WATER HEATER

About nine o'clock a few evenings ago the police department received a call to investigate mysterious rumblings in the neighborhood of the Dolly Varden candy store which could not be accounted for. They were thought to proceed from the adjacent barber shop which had been closed for the night. The officer dispatched to the scene effected an entrance to the shop but could find nothing wrong there. The rumble continued, however, and continuing his investigations he climbed through a window into the apartment of Dr. Adelaide Obeart at 409 Brand boulevard and there found a gas burner under a hot water heater burning merrily. Water in the pipes of the entire set of apartments in the building was found to be boiling and backing up into the cold water pipes. Of course the flame was turned off and the pipes left to cool in the natural manner. Had the matter not been discovered and remedied, there would probably have been an explosion and perhaps a fire.

DRAFT FORESHADOWED

TELEGRAM FROM SACRAMENTO INDICATES THAT CALL TO SERVICE IS IMMINENT

A telegram from Sacramento reached the local Exemption Board yesterday afternoon which, in the belief of Chairman Lanterman, foreshadows a general call for registrants by the national government. The telegram reads:

"Report at once by wire your total registration as of April first; total number of names ruled off in red ink on classification list; total number of registrants whose final classification is not completed; approximate number of men in Class 1 not examined; approximate number of men retained in Class 1 who have failed to appear or file Questionnaires. It is of the utmost importance that this information be in my hands within 48 hours after receipt of this wire by you." Signed "Bor-ree."

The telegram was answered the same afternoon by Mr. Lanterman. The records of his office show that the number of men physically qualified and available for service is 148; that the number of men physically qualified for limited service is 73, and that the number of men with remedial defects is 39.

According to these records 385 white and 3 colored men registered in this district were placed in Class 1; in Class 2, 108; in Class 3, 69; in Class 4 (deferred service) 732 white men and one colored man; Class 4 (not available for service) 646 men, making a total registration of 1944 men.

the souls in that auditorium their moral obligation to lend every penny they possess, if necessary, to sustain our armies and the armies of the allies and enable them to win this war. As the previous speaker and as other speakers have done, he reminded his hearers that only the British navy and the line of khaki on the British front has thus far protected us from the Hun; that though beaten to her knees, England has fought on doggedly, giving her men by the thousands and not asking our men to take places in the fighting line until they have received the training that will give them a fair chance against the foe. He paid a high tribute to the banks, saying:

"You know what the performance of our banks has been. It has been one hundred per cent patriotic. Seventy per cent of the eighteen millions which Los Angeles subscribed for the first loan came from the banks. The second loan the banks again responded, and for this third loan, I tell you tonight, the banks of Southern California would give every cent of the allotment before they would see it fail.

"This is your war, into which you are throwing the lives of men by the hundreds of thousands. Every man in uniform is your substitute in the ranks. You do not fight in that draft line because there was a man to be sent in your place. He has gone and you have not asked his consent to send him. You have added to his citizenship this new duty of fighting and dying in France.

"The third liberty loan is going to be fought out in this country face to face with the very thing that Captain Thompson has told you crushed the countries of Europe. Russia is what she is today because the Bolsheviks are masters. Nine-tenths of us are hanging back inert, indifferent, blind to the call of duty and all sense of justice to those we send out to die for us. Two years from now we may have with us ninety per cent of Bolsheviks, of dead, indifferent clamorers for peace who will bring to our nation the same weakness that wrecked Russia.

"What does the dollar mean? It means the golden labor of man, materials, products, all the things that money will buy. We are not fighting with gold and silver dollars, nor clothing our soldiers with dollars. It is the time of the working man, it is materials that the dollar represents which we loan the government in the liberty loan.

"The only way America will get the steel and iron necessary for our defense is by the curtailing of our domestic consumption. The same thing applies to oil, wheat, copper, to hundreds of commodities and more especially the labor of the man that produces. Only as we discipline ourselves to the curtailment of purchases at home can we give the government what it requires.

"In the 141 years of our existence we have been at war thirty-four years and we have spent on our government twenty-six billions of dollars. In the single year 1918 we will spend twenty-nine billions on this war alone. Do you think we can continue to live on the same plan, 'business as usual'? Germany more than any one else is relying on the hope that this government, founded to give the greatest measure of liberty, has succeeded in creating a nation of people so absolutely blinded by a false idea of their rights that they will go on in this great period of strife and sacrifice, spending for the gratification of their personal desires at home to such an extent that the twenty-nine billions will be reduced perhaps to but ten billions of purchases.

"The German government felt very certain that we could not quickly discipline ourselves as Germany has disciplined her people by forty years of training, but they forgot that our government has as its basis a constitution that was not written by any bunch of peace-time congressmen about the year 1910. It was written in 1779 and 1780 by Jefferson, Washington, Hamilton, Ben Franklin, men who had suffered the tortures of the Revolution, who had seen an army starve because the people at home would not support it, paid in paper money which was worthless because of the loosely knit colonial organization. These soldiers had one mind, one thought in that birth certificate of the Nation, to write into that deed of independence and liberty to the individual in peace, first, last and all the time a provision for centralized power to bring every resource of national power to the creation of an army and navy; and that power is with us today. Congress has just passed a law that gives the president of the United States the right to seize any personal or real property necessary to the work of the army and navy.

"When you are spending your money in competition with a power that is spending twenty-nine billions, what chance have you to get the value of your money? Why not save it, lend it to the government until five years hence, when you can get it back with interest and when you can get value in your spending?"

R. C. KNITTING DEPARTMENT

The knitting department of the Glendale Red Cross Chapter now has a not very large new supply of wool that will be given out to be made into socks and helmets to those who have out no other Red Cross yarn. A new rule has been made for the giving out of wool. Hereafter all who get it at headquarters will have to sign for it, as the Department is required to keep its books in such a manner that an accounting can be made at any time of the stocks of wool it has received.

Also, hereafter needles will be sold, not loaned, the price being 25c for two bone needles and 15c for 4 steel needles.

THE WOMEN'S COMMITTEE

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones and Miss Eva Daniels, president and secretary of the Glendale Woman's Committee for the Liberty Loan, attended a large meeting held yesterday at the Alexandria at which about 1200 women were present and which included all the chairmen and precinct workers in Los Angeles city and all the chairmen and secretaries of the town of Los Angeles County.

They there received instructions from Mr. McKee and Mr. Moulton, the two men chosen by the government to conduct this Liberty Loan campaign. In reporting concerning the meeting, Mrs. Jones said:

"We will open headquarters in Glendale Monday and have a fine committee of women who are being lined up rapidly for the work.

"This Women's Liberty Loan Committee is under orders from the Treasury Department at Washington and is headed by Mrs. McAdoo as national chairman. The men's national organization is headed by Mr. McAdoo. This is the first time in the history of our country that a member of the Cabinet of the United States has appointed a national women's committee, giving it the same recognition and privileges as other committees of his department. It is the first time in the history of the world's greatest democracy that women have been recognized as potential factors in influencing public opinion and have been empowered to give, through their united efforts, aid to the government. Knowing this and realizing the responsibilities placed upon them by the National Committee in being made a part of this Liberty Loan work, our women are rising to the occasion and will do everything they can to see that Glendale goes over the top with her quota. We expect to have headquarters opened on Monday. Our women are already at work and have their blanks which were received at the meeting at Los Angeles headquarters yesterday. More will be furnished and any further information can be had by telephoning Miss Eva Daniels, Secretary, Glendale 911-M."

half a gallon of coffee each, he asked one of the men for his name and learned that the guest was Robert W. Service.

In the interval between the lecture and the recitations Mr. Scovell persuaded the secretary of the Ambulance Society to have the hat passed for contributions and to secure the names of those who wished to join the organization, and while that was going on he coaxed and cajoled and stimulated in every possible way the generosity of his audience, which responded with coin totalling about $30.

Throughout his lecture he reproached America for tardiness in entering the war, after each recital of special bravery on the part of American volunteers, challenging his hearers with: "And you said it wasn't your war. SOMEBODY kept YOU out of war." He also referred bitterly to the sentiments which were entertained about the policy of the United States on the fighting front, and declared that America hadn't begun to do her part yet; that she had not as yet given to exceed 1½ per cent of her war profits, that the Red Cross was being made a vehicle to achieve social prominence by many idle unpatriotic women, and that if America's intervention in the war proved fruitless and if our brave Sammies at the front are defeated, seventy per cent of the responsibility for failure will rest upon the people at home who have not stood behind the fighting men as they should nor lived up to their obligations to furnish supplies for the Red Cross. He seemed to feel keenly the fact that the audience was insufficient to fill the hall.

DR. MILLS RETIRES

The resignation of Dr. Mills as Rector of St. Mark's Church, announced several weeks ago, takes effect this week. Dr. Mills has been connected with St. Mark's Church since five years ago last December. The congregation was then worshipping in a small church, half the size of the present edifice, on the corner of Isabel street and Broadway, where the Glendale Hardware Store now stands. The church was then a mission, but has since become a Parish, and Dr. Mills was installed its first Rector May 10th, 1914. Since having charge of St. Mark's Dr. Mills has added one hundred and ninety-four names to the communicant list, baptized fifty persons, married thirty-six couples, and had seventy-four burial services. Last Sunday, his last Sunday as Rector, was a great day. The congregation crowded the church, which was beautifully decorated, and four children were baptized on Saturday and Easter Day. Dr. Mills intends still to reside in Glendale. In severing his connection with St. Mark's, owing to ill health, he has only done what he felt was his duty to himself, his family, and the Church.

cidental College will march in a great be held in Pasadena.

mont Park, Glendale, were luncheon guests of Mrs. E. A. Brininstool of Los Angeles Thursday.

A business matter calls W. E. Evans, City Attorney, to Pomona Saturday for the day and is accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Evans and his daughter Katherine.

At an election which will take place in Eagle Rock Monday the 8th, the electors of that city will vote on the question a bond issue of $12,000 to establish a fire protection system.

The P. T. A. of the Intermediate School will meet Monday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. The speaker will be Mrs. Harry Huston of San Fernando and her theme will be: "From Civil to Civilization."

Miss Frances Porter of Riverside is visiting for a few days with her grandmother, Mrs. Sophia Parter of 821 West Fifth street. She has been a guest in Glendale so often that she has many friends here.

Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Lusby motored to Santa Barbara for the day on Thursday, taking as their guests Mrs.
H. A. Wilson and Mrs. F. M. Lord.
Mrs. Wilson's sister, and Mrs. C. D.
Lusby. They report excellent roads and that the country looks beautiful.

Plans have been made for a very fine luncheon to be served to voters from 11 to 2 Monday at the store adjoining the polling place at Park avenue and Brand boulevard. It is a Red Cross benefit and should be well patronized. There will be a delicatesen in connection and the food will all be home cooked. A rest room will give comfort to all who wish to rest there after voting. Mrs. Joe Griffin is chairman of the committee in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Evans were host and hostess at a very delightful but quite informal card party given at their home at 113 Orange street last Saturday evening as a birthday surprise for Mrs. J. G. Hunchberger.
The guest list included Messrs. and Mesdames A. D. Pearce H. P. Goodwin, Walter Stamps, Lawrence Ellis and J. G. Hunchberger. Five Hundred furnished the diversion of the evening and dainty refreshments were served.

Mrs. Jackson, chief clerk for the Exemption Board, has lost her little Boston terrier, "Wells Fargo," but hopes to recover the pet. She has recently changed her residence and thinks the dog lost her way when playing with the children of a neighborhood in which she was unfamiliar. The dog is a great favorite with all who have had occasion to make frequent visits to the Exemption Board and many friends share Mrs.
Jackson's anxieties.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE PRES- BYTERIAN CHURCH, WEDNES- DAY EVENING, APRIL 3

After a devotional opening of the meeting, annual reports were given from all officers, organizations and societies of the church. They were all full of interest and showed progress and increase in every department, both spiritually and tempo-rally. Election of officers followed the reports, the out-going members of Boards being unanimously re-elected.
After all other business was over, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, the pastor, gave a brief outline of the year's work and an outlook for the future, suggesting among other things an increased Prayer Meeting attendance, more Bible study classes, co-ordination of organizations in a pastor's cabinet, an increase in family altars among the church members, more adult members in the Sunday School, putting the Sabbath evening service on an equal standing with the hour of morning worship, and ending with an eloquent appeal that there should be a real revival of real religion throughout the church this coming year for the glory of the King and His Kingdom.

VOTE TO ANNEX TO GLENDAL E

Returns from the two annexation elections held Friday show that both propositions carried. In the Arden Avenue District, which includes all that portion outside of the City of Glendale between the Verdugo Wash west of Brand boulevard to a little distance beyond Central avenue, there were twenty-three votes in favor and three against.

In the Valley View District, which takes in all the territory west of the city south of Broadway, not including the frontage on Broadway, the vote was 26 in favor and 11 against.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Sunday. Westerly winds.

AT THE PALACE GRAND

A very satisfactory audience gathered at the Palace Grand Theatre Thursday afternoon to enjoy the special program put on to celebrate the completion of the new loge and other improvements. The new lighting system awakened great enthusiasm. At will it was altered to rosy red, the flush melting into a pure white light and then being transformed to violet blue. At the same time the stage panels above the exits on either side of the curtain were illuminated and shared in the flood of alternating colors. The audience was delighted with the novelty and applauded each rainbow change.

The curtain raiser featuring "Fatty Arbuckle" was enjoyed and "Ama-rilly of Clothesline Alley" realized all the expectations of patrons. It was an exceedingly pretty play with the right kind of an ending and admirers of Mary Pickford were confirmed in the wisdom of their judgment. The Messrs. Jensen seemed highly pleased with the reception given the novelties they have introduced and say they are prepared to keep abreast of the times in all respects. Hereafter at evening performances the orchestra will be increased to seven pieces.

DEATH OF ADELAIDE BECKER

Miss Adelaide Becker, sister of A.
J. Becker of 242 South Central avenue, Tropico district, passed away at a sanitarium in Hollywood Friday morning after a lingering illness. She was a native of Ohio and was 33 years of age. Services will be held at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Severn, Letton & Frey in charge.

April 7, Judge Wm. A. Spell will address the Towards Democracy Club ment" will be the topic. All invited.

HOURS OF CHURCH SERVICES TO REMAIN UNCHANGED

At the regular meeting of the Ministers' Alliance it was unanimously decided to hold all evening services at the usual hour, 7:30 o'clock, during April. While there was some confusion last Sunday, the first day of the new time, hereafter it will be understood that the usual schedule of hours will be observed by our local evangelical churches.

MELLISH MAKES STATEMENT

Glendale, Cal., April 6, 1918.

In addressing this communication to the citizens of Glendale requesting their support in the coming election on April 8, 1918, would say I have lived in this section of California for five years, and feel that I know as well as any man the needs of the people of Glendale and will therefore be able to vote on any question that may come up before the Board with that intelligence and broad-mindedness that you would require of your Trustee. I have held positions of trust in the jewelry business and in city affairs for over 35 years and have never failed in that trust, handling millions of dollars of other people's property. I am heartily and thoroughly in favor of municipal ownership of all public utilities.
Hoping for a favorable action on your part in this matter on election day, I am,

Yours sincerely,

J. H. MELLISH,

Candidate for Trustee of the City of Glendale, Cal.

LIBERTY!

Does that word have a tendency to send a thrill down your backbone? Sure it does. The Liberty Bonds which we will continue to buy, would not sell half so easily if they did not bear that title. We want liberty for ourselves and the world and we are going to have it by winning this war. Nobody can doubt this for a minute. Have you liberty, also, from the dread of what would happen to your family if you should be prematurely cut off and their income should cease?
Don't you think it very important that you should provide for such a contingency, at least to some extent, and also for yourself in old age? The consciousness of having done this will give you more freedom in mind and action than anything else you can do. A Provident income policy is exactly what you are looking for.

ARMENIAN-SYRIAN DRIVE

The Editor of the News has received a card asking why solicitors are calling at Glendale homes in the evening, seeking subscriptions to a fund for the Armenians and Syrians.

The party who wrote this evidently doesn't read the News very closely or he would have seen an account of the large meeting at the Methodist church, at which the matter of a house-to-house canvass was decided upon and a director and treasurer appointed. These solicitors are making these calls this week because of the close proximity of the Liberty Loan drive and are calling in the evening because they are business men who have little time for it in the day time and because that is the only time when the heads of the homes can be found at home. The pledge cards should be sufficient credential for the bearers and as all checks are made payable to our treasurer, C. D. Lusby, at the Glendale Savings Bank, or to Chas. R. Barker, treasurer for Southern California, there should be little danger of any funds getting into the wrong hands. The men who are making this canvass are for the most part representative men from the different churches in Glendale who are doing this work out of love for their fellow creatures, and are themselves giving as much as, or more than, they ask from others. When only ten per cent of the people of Glendale have contributed anything at all to the government, Red Cross or Y.
M. C. A., as reported by the managers of the Liberty Loan committee, it is safe to conclude that a very small proportion has given anything in aid of the stricken peoples of Europe. In comparison to the sufferings of the Belgians, Servians and Roumanians, the Armenians and Syrians have endured far more tortures, afflictions and starvation beyond the power of words to describe, and if your heart does not go out to them and if you do not feel that you want to have a little part in helping them you are not asked to contribute. The matter is one of pure charity (love) and is not expected to detract one iota from the duty you owe the government in helping to win the war. That is the paramount thing. If we don't win that, we will all starve, or go into slavery, which would be worse.

W. B. KIRK.

VOTERS NOTICE!

To the Citizens of Glendale:

I have just been informed that a report is being circulated in Glendale to the effect that F. D. Silvius, who is a candidate for Trustee of the City of Glendale, is pro-German and anti-American, which surprised me very much until I thought of the political end of it.

I have known Mr. Silvius for a number of years, having for quite a while lived next door to him, and know him to be an honorable, upright citizen, a true and loyal American and a faithful supporter of the United States and all of its institutions. He is a substantial citizen of Glendale and in these times of public donations for the support of the United States Army and all the aids thereto, when called upon, he hands out his money freely and learns afterwards what it was given for. He is no German and has no German blood in his veins. He was born in the United States, as were his father, mother and all his ancestors so far as he knows anything about. No man can possibly have a stronger feeling against the Central Powers than I have and I have no patience whatever with anything German. I am going to vote for Mr. Silvius.
